Michelle Stimpson
National Bestselling Author,
Speaker, Educator

Do you have the next great American novel sitting in your desk drawer – or in your head? Ever read a book and thought to yourself, “Why didn’t I write this?” If you answered “yes” to either of these questions, you owe it to yourself to join author and reading/writing instructor Michelle Stimpson, M.Ed., for this intense workshop, preparing you to take your writing to the next level. You’ll get the opportunity to practice different writing techniques, mimic the work of other published authors, critique within a small group, and learn about the publishing process.

Who knows? Maybe you’re sitting on the next bestseller!
